

Data Visualization

Assignment 1

Generative Art?

It's a type art in which algorithmic shapes, colors, and form in which one user sets up its basic tool guides and the computer follows its rules.

Part2)Changed its color to “purple”

Part3)Critique

- It would've been more clear in visualization if they create timeline with line graph instead of bar graph
- There are too many captions in which it might distract people from seeing.
- Also the columns and rows behind these bar graphs aren't necessary

CHARTING U.S. INFLATION OVER 100 YEARS

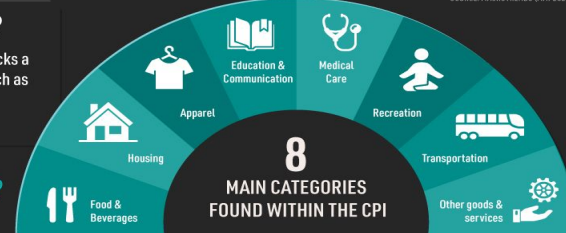

Inflation has become a focal point for investors amid rising consumer demand.
But how does it compare to levels seen 10, 20, or 50 years ago?
Below, we show inflation over the last century.

How is Inflation Measured?

The consumer price index (CPI)— which tracks a basket of consumer goods and services such as food and energy— is used to measure U.S. inflation rates.

WHAT MAKES UP THE CPI?
